Happy New Year

365 Days
to come

This is the personal diary of Alice Winifred O'Connor. In it are recorded matters of interest to her only. Others should not read the record.

Went to 9.³⁰ Mass with Sue and Nell - then to John's for dinner but not until 2 - home again at 5.³⁰. A typical day of family "joys". To bed by 10 - in fact upstairs from 8.³⁰.

Talked to Elizabeth Sullivan by phone and weakly consented to meet her Wed. evening and then wrote her it was impossible. - - apparently 1940 will find me even more spineless than 1939.

Talked to Helen D. and Frank S. Aches and aches and aches! Cold.

TUESDAY

2

2nd
Day364 Days
to come

Back at work. Waited for station bus until frozen to the bone & out of sorts with self and sister. because if I had walked to station I couldn't have been colder and at least would have pleased myself.

Gave Michael $6 of my own funds for r.r. ticket and $50 of conservator's funds as per agreement of April 1939.

Had lunch with Mary Guyton. As usual she wants me to do something at conference Friday. She talked about M.F.S. II. I gather he isn't quite as good as she hoped. Disorganized, wastes time, doesn't concentrate, not office broken. Woe is me - I'm afraid M.F.S. II is a square peg that refuses to be rounded to any hole.

The office is jammed today.

Talked to Commissioner Talked to Mrs. White.

SATURDAY

6

JANUARY

6th
Day

Feast of the Epiphany

360 Days
to come

Long telephone discussion with Mary Dunton regarding Michael. Evidently he is getting under her skin. Thinks he is too friendly and informal. She doesn't seem to realize that an acquaintance that began with friendship and first name calling in Hyannis doesn't suddenly change -- when one is young -- to business formality at 200 Newbury.

Lunch with Michael and heard his side.

Worked Emmanuel & Nya until utterly weary.

Home on 4.55.

To bed at 7.30. Dr. Mc Gillicuddy called me on phone. Friendly talk.
Dick and Helen.

SUNDAY

7

JANUARY

7th
Day

1st Sunday after Epiphany

359 Days
to come

A day of small things - & nothing of importance.
A sermon that was dull, mean, and stupid and poorly delivered into the bargain. Much time consumed in riding about with John and Evelyn. et alii.

To see Margaret P.M. - and, as usual, Bernard and Agnes. For variety this time Bernard left instead of Agnes.

Home and to bed.

Much discussion of plans for Michael.

MONDAY

8

8th
Day358 Days
to come

Had lunch with Manetta and found it even more boring than usual. She gave details on her plans to conquer Midge - her reactions to Blulah - and so on ad infinitum.
I didn't call Mrs. Broganahan to give her title of speech because I couldn't think of any.
A dull day but a generous me.

Easter Even

A cold blustery day. Michael was sick with a cold. Sue didn't get up. I walked to the station accompanied most of the way by Mr. Dwyer who gave me the low down on Kalvin and impending scandals.

The office was quite busy. I left two Emmanuel girls behind me at 1.30 (and what they do is mostly m. s.).

Went home on 2.30. I was met by Dick who stayed and called on family until 5.30.

John and Evelyn came to supper bringing an Easter basket. She was obviously ill & he was also.

I walked to church to Confession while Sue was driving them home but she met me.

Father (Aconada) - 2 Hail Marys.

Went to bed early. Rd Mrs. Skelington

Candy 60¢. Taxi 50¢. Taxi 50¢.

A rather dreary Sunday devoted almost entirely to the Annual Report. Went to Mass. and Communion at 9.³⁰.

Only glanced at morning papers & then went at report & worked all day & night until midnight. Reward: an exceedingly dull report plus a stiff neck.

Michael was semi-convalescent from his cold. Sue retired to her room at noon & didn't emerge. Lute evidently she was acquiring something in addition to the usual first class case of zumps. Nell also was in retirement but apparently not as worse off than usual. Evelyn was ill with zuppe; John was nursing a cold. Helen & Dick were at Medford.

John Leonard visited Michael 5-9. & from the pounds of merriment the twins enjoyed freedom from the 3 cross aunts.

..... no fine definition of social work. It is as local communities, the press, the politicians, the social workers themselves, define it. It consists of organizations that are palliative, protective and preventive, that are both public and private, that work with groups and individuals. It is composed of agencies that run the gamut from those which provide food and shelter that life may be sustained to those which afford intellectual, recreational and spiritual opportunities to the end that living may be a happier and more gracious experience. Wide and varied though social work is, its component parts have this in common:

either by changing the tint of the eyeglass or by altering the color of society. They would make this a better, a rosier-colored world for those who are unable to do it for themselves.

But there are two groups in society who, more than any others, have a vital stake in human misery: they are the distressed themselves, and those who make their living ministering to the miserable. The first are the clients of social work; the second, the social workers. The simple and direct mind will look to one or the other for leadership in solving the problem.

Education for Social Understanding
Saynell Hawkins.

No man is an Island,
entire of it self;
any man's death diminishes
me, because I am involved
in Mankind;

And therefore never send to know for whom the bell tolls; It tolls for thee."

John Donne.

The social worker is not concerned primarily with reform or with betterment of human beings. That is a confused and belittling definition of social work which has done much to bring about smugness in social workers and suspicion in the public generally. The human race could not bear the burden of an entire group, who, unauthorized by Divine Sanction, conceived it their ^{sole} task to mold human lives into models designed by reformers. Social work is the task of those who aid mankind in the art of living together. Social work is neither a science seeking merely to know, nor a business seeking to profit. Social work is an art, a flowing and dynamic art.

Moran Van Waters
Youth in Conflict.

The real situation which faces us as social workers includes a society, potentially rich but actually poor, wasteful of its material and human resources, torn by class and racial conflicts, its cultural life on the whole meagre, vulgar, and disintegrated. Social workers can not escape this reality by absorbing themselves in individuals, groups, or institutions, or by drugging themselves with techniques

4 Are they experiences in Social work started as a reform movement and used educational methods; it became increasingly concerned with its functions and its techniques and neglected its purpose and the interpretation of its findings in relation to this purpose.

It now seems to be on the way to reconciling purpose with function and to be concerned again in contributing to the social understanding of those who support it, as well as of those whom it serves.

Election day.

I went to Fall River to see Mr. Hurley.

As usual the office was torrid
Everything was dull.

He was in pink & spaw white shirt --- no coat --- dark blue underwear very long sleeve and high neck Quite visible.

The stenographer was very omnipresent - as usual -- and I accomplished very little - in as far as to see how forms were filled out. I saw nothing.

However. Mr. Hurley assured me that all forms had gone forward

I know one thing quite definitely --- and that is I do not like Miss Orell

Came home by bus - at 4.15 to Lawrence.

WEDNESDAY

A busy day -

left at 4.30 to get shampoo & ware.

I never saw a worse hands - I certainly am a wout for style.

A heavy day.
Lunch with Marietta who was in a dither about Milkie. It was tough enough to mourn the wrongs done her by Jack and Midge but to take on the political field is too tough.

That night. the Norfolk House Settlement
- a terrible disappointment.

Arrived at P. 30. saw interminable rooms filled with dirty children and bored teachers. My audience numbered 6 or 8. After the evening's toil was over I was taken to Settlement's Commons to meet the social workers who seemed almost as glad to meet me as I was delighted to meet them. Left there at 11 P.M.
